

Service Overview | Web Visuals

Web Meetings Made Easy

Copper provides a collaboration tool that allows you to really interact with remote teams, keeping everyone focused on what you're demonstrating or collaborating on important projects. Web Visuals brings you a one-stop conferencing solution that integrates web, video and audio conferencing into one easy to use service.

Make it Simple

Web Visuals is an easy to use service requiring minimal training. Review contracts, demonstrate software or edit project plans involving everyone in the meeting

- Set Web Visuals up once and get instant sign-on right from your desktop
- Audio, web and video connections are integrated into one service
- Schedule web meetings in Outlook® for easy invitations and one click entry

Engage . . . Easily

Web Visuals gives you integrated features to better manage your meetings making them feel more personal.

- Integrated audio conferencing. Connect your participants by having the system dial and enter them into the call. Mute, un-mute, and disconnect lines from the web interface. Dial out to participants who have not yet joined the call.
- Easy to use collaboration tools. One tool bar lets you share your desktop, any application or web pages. Upload presentation documents and store them in your account for later use. Whiteboard or annotate on the screen. Chat with participants, conduct polls or use the question and answer tool.
- Integrated desktop video. Web Visuals automatically detects your webcam, so you can see who is talking. You can click the name of the person you want to see on your screen.

Use Web Visuals to Manage Your Webinars

When you host large training sessions, company announcements, marketing seminars or investor relations calls, you may need to bring hundreds or thousands of people together. Web Visuals was designed to help walk you through each step to ensure your event is a success. From one interface, you can:

- Manage your guest lists
- Send customized invitations that integrate with Outlook® and automatically send reminders
- Pre-qualify people with customized registration questions as they register for your seminar
- Host up to 1200 people in a session
- Get real-time feedback with interactive chat, polling and Q&A
- Record your webinar for access by those who couldn't attend, including the audio, web and video in a single playback
- Post documents, product brochures, course-work and other reference materials for later download

Our highly skilled event services team can step in as an extension of your staff to help you plan, conduct and measure the success of your event.

Integrated, Simple and Affordable Meetings

Web Visuals lets you have remote meetings that are as engaging as live ones. Dynamic, interactive tools that give you a full-featured internet meeting with intuitive, easy-to-use tools and integrated audio, web and video conferencing into one convenient and affordable conferencing solution.
